Donald D. Gritton, 74, who flew in 56 missions during World War II, died Tuesday of cancer at his home in La Grange Park. Born and raised in Toronto, Ohio, Mr. Gritton joined the Army Air Corps when he was 18 years old because he always wanted to fly, said Mr. Gritton's son David. During the war, he was a P-38 pilot in the 367th Fighter Squadron who was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his service. "What shines out the most is what he did for our country. It was a pretty important part of his life," David Gritton said. "Other than that, he was just a regular guy who watched football on TV, just like anybody's dad." After the war, Mr. Gritton attended Kent State University and earned a bachelor's degree in business in just 2 1/2 years, graduating cum laude. He arrived in Chicago in 1952 to work as a salesman. A one-year stint as a special agent in the FBI preceded a career as a salesman in the motor freight business.
